

Dave Williams

I am still at the stage of not being able to answer much. I only started in 2014 because of a mention in my local paper of a local participant, giving me the idea that the treasure would be local. It wasn't, but I entered this year with renewed enthusiasm as it seemed I would be able to get to it this time.

I am interested in how other teams tackled the problem, but for myself I can only document the reasons for my failure.
