

HANDS, FACE, SPACE

Alert Announcement – Coverings Required

As we enter the final phase and we can see the light at the end of the tunnel it becomes increasingly important that we all understand and continue to follow published guidance so so that all of the effort that we have collectively given and the sacrifices we have made will not be wasted.

Apopheniacs Anonymous understand that the importance of using masks has been neglected by the hunting community and inadequately explained by the authorities. To encourage their proper use, Apopheniacs Anonymous have produced two new designs featuring images of the capital. These two masks are both applied in identical fashion, and hopefully this guidance will cover the answers to all questions that you have. Additionally, the extent to which we have gone round to address problems that will help provide answers is reported as key.

These designs will be made available from a number of establishments and will be produced according to the following schedule. In the first stage, sixteen outlets will be open across all quarters of the capital on a rotating basis to ensure adequate distancing and complete coverage. For the second stage, mask production will cover all areas of the capital and orders will be taken on a pairwise basis to stop the situation spiralling out of control, ensuring complete coverage in a safe manner.

Hunters are urged to keep going until the end, correct use of masks will help us all get to the prize.

Available masks

